New Travelers' Council Elects

More than 200 witnessed a public installation in odd Fellows Hall last Saturday of the first officers of the new Menotomy Council No. 733, United Commercial Travelers. A dinner preceding the installation was attended by 131 and some 40 charter members were welcomed into the council.

Hit By Truck

While alighting from a trolley car at Mass. Ave. and Trowbridge St. Friday afternoon, Rushton Miller of 26 Trowbridge St. was hit a glancing blow by a bakery truck bearing a Vermont registration, according to a report he made to police. He claimed injuries to his head.

ON VACATION

Two automobiles were wrecked and three persons injured when, in separate accidents in a period of 36 hours, two motorists ran their cars into the concrete safety isle at Mass. Ave. and Lake St.

The first accident, which sent two men to the hospital, occurred Friday at 12:26 a.m. The second, from the wreckage of which one man was taken to the hospital, occurred Saturday at 3:25 p.m.

In Friday morning's accident Sidney Michaels, a resident of Chicago, who was driving, suffered head and shoulder injuries, and a passenger, Frank T. Leary of the State Hotel, Boston, suffered a compound fracture of the jaw. Both were removed to Symmes Hospital, and while helping carry one of the stretchers Patrolman Thomas R. Piggott suffered a back injury which incapacitated him from duty. Michaels' car, badly damaged, had to be towed away.

Crashing at the very same spot Saturday afternoon, an auto driven by William S. Dobbins of 177 Burlington St., Woburn, likewise was badly damaged and a passenger, Robert Foley, 35, of 6 Veterans' Row, Woburn, was taken by Mr. Dobbins to Mass. General Hospital with a possible arm fracture.

6 Here Pass Bar Exams

Six Arlington residents, including one young woman, were among the 233 law students who were notified this week they had successfully passed the state bar examinations. A total of 452 took the exams, 219 failing to pass.

The successful Arlington candidates were:

Miss Jacqueline B. Caldwell, 32 Orvis Rd.
Robert R. Cave, 22 Bellevue Rd.
John A. Dolan, 52 Lombard Terrace.
John F. Reardon, 181 Franklin Street.
Edward S. Roche Jr., 11 Orvis Road.
Francis M. Smith, 60 Milton St.

Tough Driving

Pitted street pavements, caused by the severe winter just ending, are bringing complaints from all sections of town.

On Tuesday alone, the street department was notified through complaints to police of particularly bad pavements at three spots: Russell St. between Mystic and Water Sts., Lake St. opposite No. 27, and Mass Ave. near Lockeland Ave. Emergency road patches are being applied in most such cases.

Skunk's Visit Here Brief, And Fatal

An infrequent visitor—a skunk—was discovered in Arlington Sunday.

But the skunk's visit hadn't lasted long. When Patrolman John A. Casazza located it (without difficulty) opposite 1027 Mass. Ave. Sunday night, it was a very dead skunk.

Unaccustomed to city traffic, it had apparently blundered in the path of an auto. Town employees lost no time in removing it.

Explorer To Speak Here On April 7

Hundreds in Arlington are looking forward with keen anticipation to the scheduled appearance here April 7 of Count Byron de Prorok, one of the world's leading archaeologists and explorers, who is to speak at the third "Evening of Adventure and Music" sponsored by the First Universalist Church. Count de Prorok, who is internationally famous, has led 18 major expeditions to North Africa, Ethiopia, Egypt, the Sahara, Mexico, Libya and Arabia. He will come here with his latest moving picture story in color, "From Crimstone Dolomites to Blue Danube," a story of that part of the world behind the "iron curtain."

The famed explorer will be heard at Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

Fashion Show By Hardy PTA

Twelve adult models demonstrated 1948 dress and coat styles at a fashion show sponsored last Thursday by the Hardy School PTA. Juvenile styles were modeled by four children; Joan O'Neil, Geraldine Quinzio, Virginia Benenati and Diedri Sheahan.

Mrs. James Aulenback directed the program, assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Benenati, Mrs. Francis Mace, Mrs. Norma Norton and Mrs. Beartice Rogers.

Gas Truck Springs Leak

A large tractor-driven gasoline trailer truck sprang a leak on the Concord Pike near Highland Ave. early Saturday afternoon, and both police and firemen were summoned to the scene to avert a possible fire.

While police officers diverted traffic, members of the fire department's Engine 1 made emergency repairs to stop the leak—and then cleaned up the highway.

Big Strides By Super-Market In 4 Months

MARIO DE LUCA

Head of one of the most successful super-markets in the Arlington area, Mario DeLuca is a man folks like to work for. More than a dozen employees help him to take care of customers at the Food Lane at 234 Mass. Ave. and among them is a spirit of comradery and friendliness that bespeaks cooperation. The entire personnel "pulls together"—they're just as anxious to please the customers as is Mr. DeLuca himself. And the large and very modern Food Lane being a very busy place, they have plenty of customers to please.

The casual observer would hardly guess from the bustling activities in this establishment that it has been opened only since last November.

"We spent a lot of time and a lot of money planning this store, and making contacts that would make it possible to offer choice foodstuffs at really competitive prices," says Mr. DeLuca, "and it was no surprise to have the Food Lane become an immediate hit."

"We serve our immediate neighborhood, of course, but our trade extends far beyond this: Customers now come to us from all parts of Arlington."

Mr. DeLuca has been in the meat business since 1927. In the big store he now heads as owner-manager, he has a number of experienced men and women who understand the operation of all the departments which go to make up a modern super-market.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Cole of 148 Mass. Ave. announce the engagement of their daughter Grace Louise Keough, to George Francis King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. King of Belmont.

Vote Slated At Town Meeting On $600,000 For New School Bldg.

Members of the Town Meeting, who at an initial session last week showed a strong disinclination to add avoidable expenses to the budget, are scheduled to take up at adjourned town meeting this Friday night important matters including:

- (1) The request for a $600,000 appropriation to build a new elementary school in the Morningside section.
- (2) The question of a bonus or salary increase for town employees.
- (3) A requested appropriation to build a gymnasium-auditorium addition to Junior High School West.
- (4) The general budget for the town government.

Highlighting the action at the opening session of town meeting last week was an appropriation of $28,300 to add to the seating capacity at Arlington High School's Peirce Athletic Field. Proposals to spend an additional $24,600 for improvements to the field were voted down.

Approved was $10,000 for improvements for the high school's Lowe Auditorium, and a like sum with which to construct a long-proposed building at the town yard.

Purchase of two small tracts of land for park purposes was approved. One tract, on the Dixon estate near Symmes Hospital, includes a pond and will cost the town $2,187. Another, smaller tract borders on Menotomy Park, on Jason St., and will cost $146.40.

Other routine appropriations were approved, but the total for the opening session came to but $185,134.40—much lower than usual, due to tardiness in receiving the salary committee's report. Approval of the firemen's 48-hour week also made revision of the fire department's budget necessary.

Frown On Changes In Form Of Town Gov't

There will be no drastic changes in Arlington's town government—at least not in the immediate future—it was indicated at last week's opening session of the town meeting.

The special committee which has been studying possible changes in government submitted its report, recommending the merger of several town departments, the creation of a board of a selectmen of five members instead of three and appointment of a single director to head town departments, but the report was merely received and tabled.

The committee's report, submitted by Chairman Roscoe O. Elliott, was first received, the committee was discharged with thanks. Later in the session, however, this action was reconsidered and the committee was reconstituted. Its report, however, was tabled, and no action was taken on a suggestion that the state legislature be asked to pass legislation authorizing the proposed changes.

Car Skids Into Pond; Firemen Use Ladders In Rescue Of Driver

It took the combined efforts of local and metropolitan police, and finally of members of Fire Engine 1, to rescue a hapless out-of-town motorist whose car skidded off Mystic Valley Parkway Monday night, landing in about three feet of water in Meadow Brook Park near Mr. Pleasant Cemetery.

Marooned some distance from shore, the motorist remained in his flooded car until another passing driver spotted him and reported his predicament to police.

Officers who reached the scene couldn't do much for him, so fire headquarters was contacted and Engine 1 responded. Pushing ladders out over the ice, firemen were able to reach the luckless autoist and assist him to shore.

The man identified himself as John Mitchell of Dewey St., Roxbury. His car later was pulled back to the roadway.

Doctor With Outdated Car Plates Halted

A physician may enjoy certain privileges on the highway, but this does not include driving in 1948 an auto bearing 1947 plates.

This fact was brought home to Dr. Edward Phillips of 77 Pearl St., Woburn, when he was stopped near St. Agnes School Tuesday morning by Patrolman Arthur G. Guarante.

The doctor had California plates, 1947 vintage. He had to leave the car in the police garage here until he obtained proper plates.

Draw Jurors

Drawn for jury service by the selectmen Monday were: John E. Hendrick, 3 Lakeview St.; Henry C. Nelson, 24 Chandler St., and Peter DeCampo, 4 Dorothy Rd.

More than 250 members and guests of the Men's Class of the First Baptist Church attended the group's eighth annual communion breakfast Sunday.

Noy Named To Head Patriot's Day Program

Richard D. Noy, senior vice commander of Arlington's American Legion post, was chosen chairman of arrangements for the April 19 Patriot's Day observance here, at a meeting Monday of the selectmen and representatives of various veterans' groups.

Miss Helen C. Dahill of the Legion auxiliary was named secretary of the committee.

As in past years, there will be a parade and a concert prior to the arrival here of "Revere and Dawes" on their famous ride from Boston to Lexington.

Vets' Victory Medals To Be Given Sunday

The stage is set for a mass presentation of Victory Medals here Sunday to Arlington ex-servicemen.

Under direction of the American Legion, the presentations will be made in town hall beginning at 3 o'clock. Discharge papers will be certified between 1 and 3. More than 1,000 War 2 vets who have not already obtained the medals are expected to turn out for the public ceremony.

165 Give To Blood Bank

A total of 165 donors gave a pint of blood each Monday and Tuesday, during the visit of the state mobile blood bank.

While this was 85 short of the goal of 250 pints, Red Cross officials here expressed satisfaction, and visiting officials praised the efficient manner in which the two-day program was carried out.

Miss Blaine Nears 95th Birthday

Open house will be held at 16 Jason St. Sunday, from 3 to 5 P. M., in honor of Miss Caroline Blaine, who will celebrate her 95th birthday March 24.

Miss Blaine, who formerly lived on Westminster Ave., was born in Scotland and has lived here 20 years. She likes to read, has a fine sense of humor and keen memory, and recently knitted a baby sweater for a fair. Sunday's reception will be in charge of the Fidelis Class of Arlington Heights Baptist Church.

Air Squadron Set To Meet

A special meeting of the Arlington Squadron of the Air Force Association will be held this (Thursday) evening in the old town hall, at 7:45, when nominations for election of the state wing commander and other wing officers will be discussed.

It Shouldn't Happen

We saw something happen last week that never should happen. We don't know how to prevent it.

A fire department's special service truck sped out on a rush call. It was away at Medford St., found itself behind a long line of cars. The car at the head of the line was a fire engine. The other drivers could hear the insistent siren. They moved. And the emergency truck could not proceed. The side of the road—that, too, was clogged with traffic.

Sgt. William M. Germain saved the day by waving the line away, despite the red light—but that took two minutes. While two small children overcome by coal gas help.

The children were brought back to consciousness when they finally reached their home. But it took a half hour's work for the rescuer to bring them back to life, and it is easy to see how much difference even two minutes can make in such cases.

Police, firemen and doctors answering emergency calls always have the possibility of delays along Mass. Ave., as long as this one-way street is used as a main thoroughfare through town. Two remedies have been suggested: subways, or a by-passing main highway. They ARE remedies, and eventually one or the other must of course be resorted to.

Ball Teams Must File For Their Permits Within Next 18 Days

Baseball teams planning to use any of the town's athletic fields this summer should make application to the park department no later than April 5, according to notice from the park department.

Many applications for permits are expected, and individual teams are asked to keep their requests to a minimum.

Proposed Memorial To Commander Shea

HERE'S A SKETCH of the memorial it is proposed to erect in memory of one of Arlington's outstanding war heroes, Commander John Joseph Shea, USN. Whether an appropriation for the memorial will be made hinges on action at Town Meeting. Many advocate the proposal, but many others want a memorial for ALL war veterans—while still others favor a "living" war memorial that could be of use to the living. Should the appropriation be voted, the granite for the monument would come from Cambridge, Commander Shea's native town, while the plaque itself designed by Architect John Henry Shea—would be made in Arlington.

R. E. Powers, Executive, Dies At 45

Richard E. Powers of 16 Newton Rd., district credit manager of Lever Bros., Cambridge, died Monday in a Boston hospital, where he had been admitted a week before for a check-up. His death is believed to have been induced by a combination of over work, a recent fall and the death recently of a relative in Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Mr. Powers, who was 45, was a native of Poughkeepsie and had lived in Arlington 17 years. He had been with Lever Bros. 25 years, was a member of the Boston College Club of Arlington and also a Town Meeting member.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen V. (Palmer) Powers; his mother, Mrs. Helen R. Powers; two sons, Richard E. and Gerald F.; and three brothers, James W., auditor of the State Street Trust Co., Joseph F. and John R. Powers.

Funeral services were held this (Thursday) morning, with solemn high mass of requiem at St. Agnes Church at 10 and burial in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

AHS Loses Chance At 'Met' Title

Malden Catholic, champion of the Catholic Hockey League, annexed the "Met" Tourney title by defeating Arlington High 6 to 3, in the final game of the series at the Boston Arena Saturday.

In the second game between Malden and Watertown, Malden came out on top 6 to 5, after having played a five-minute overtime period. By winning the "Met" Tourney, Catholic will represent Eastern Mass in the New England Tourney, which will start next week.

Rifle Stolen

Gregory Lemann of 65 Paul Revere Rd. reported to police Saturday that sometime during the last two weeks a shack he owns at 10 Lancaster Rd. was broken into and a 22 calibre Remington rifle stolen.

Joe Learns....The Painful Way

A Press reporter phoned Arlington 5-4988-R, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zuffanti at 41 Mass. Ave.

"Hello," answered a youngish voice.

"This is the Arlington Press; is this Mrs. Zuffanti?"

"No, this is her boy."

"Oh, are you the one who was hit by a car yesterday?"

"Yes."

"We were calling to see if you were hurt bad."

"Not bad. Just banged up a little on the head."

"How did it happen?"

"Well, this fellow in the car didn't see me and I didn't see him."

"I'll bet you'll be more careful after this."

"You bet!"

And that seems to be the story of how 12-year old Joseph Zuffanti was struck by a car operated by Lawrence E. Knight of 241 Broadway, opposite 41 Mass. Ave. shortly after 6 o'clock Monday night.

Fred A. Fellows

Funeral services for Fred A. Fellows, 70, of 55 Varnum St., for 13 years manager of the Clyde Reick department store in Arlington Heights, were held last Thursday at the A.E. Long Funeral Home, with Rev. Robert M. Rice of the First Universalist Church officiating. Cremation followed at Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

A native of Cambridge, Mr. Fellows before taking over management of his son-in-law's store here had been connected for many years with a shoe store in Boston. He was a member of the Odd Fellows. He is survived by his wife, Mrs.

Escaped Hospital Inmate Found At Home, Bites Cop

The hazards of a policeman's life were again demonstrated last Thursday, when Patrolman Gerald J. Duggan was bitten on the small finger of the left hand by an escaped inmate of Westboro State Hospital.

The presence of the patient, who returned to his home here after leaving the hospital March 2, was reported to police late Thursday afternoon. The police ambulance and a cruiser were dispatched to the scene, and—later—Patrolman Dugan was forced to report: "Bitten on finger by escaped patient, and uniform coat soiled."

To The Parents Of Arlington

In order that the Town of Arlington may recruit its share of the anticipated growth of our Council, we must have more volunteer workers.

If you can spare two hours each week to assist Scouting, you can make a contribution to the boyhood of Arlington which could not be purchased with money.

We look to parents to assist as volunteers in Scouting because their sons are enjoying and will enjoy the Scouting Program.

Call in person, write or phone the following addresses for information on how you may be of assistance in furthering the Scouting Program in Arlington.

Scooping Around Arlington High

with KATHLEEN KIRSCHBAUM

The Arlington Rotary Club was well-entertained a week ago Wednesday by four Periclean Forum members. After a delicious luncheon, John Hartley, chairman, led a discussion on the ever prominent topic, Universal Military Training. Seto Javian and Donald Greene offered opposition; Crawford Coombes and Sarkis Zartarian enumerated advantages. Rotary Club president, Mr. Charles Perham, expressed his feeling that the boys were very interesting and presented different angles, with a full knowledge of their subject.

Two separate assemblies were held Friday to show the juniors and sophomores a sound film entitled, "Charm, Personality, and Character." Its purpose was not only to entertain but to instruct as well.

The high school newspaper has added talented sophomore David Crowley to its staff. His marvelous cartoon creations portraying the amusing side of serious situations at the school will be featured each month in the "Chronicle."

On March 9, Mr. Campbell, head of the English Department, and Miss O'Connell, popular AHS English teacher, joined faculty representatives from a number of other high schools at Boston University. At this meeting Miss O'Connell gave her ideas on the subject: "Simplified Classes In English."

On Wednesday and Thursday of last week members of various clubs were kept busy with after-school meetings. The G.A.A. (Girls' Athletic Association) met deciding on two basketball games and ping pong meets, in which the sophomores will oppose the juniors and the winner, the seniors; members of the Ski Club enjoyed movies of a Norway ski meet, jumping and cross country skills being the features; Theatrics discussed the entrance in the annual drama festival to be held at Gloucester this spring; and the Periclean Forum chose "Nazi Imbued" for a topic of discussion.

The ever-charitable Junior Red Cross started its drive Monday, when some room collections were made. With the incalculable efforts of Crawford Coombes and Miss Kelly behind them and Virginia Todd's two inspiring posters, students should be more than willing to pile up a noteworthy total.

Dick Nash, former AHS class president and member of Billy Hamilton's Arcadians, returned home recently after an engagement with the Sam Donahue orchestra. He plans to continue his study of the trombone.

I WONDER if many others, like L.A.D., hate to listen to weather reports because they "prefer to enjoy a fine morning without knowing that the weather man predicts a storm in the afternoon".

Miss Helen Irwin of 28 Wachusett Ave., reported to police Sunday that she found a black change purse, containing a sum of money and a key, and was holding it until a claimant shows up.

I WONDER if Bill Hearn of the Heights has been adding much lately to his collection of antiques?

Review math classes under the direction of Mr. Eatin, head of the high school math department, started last Saturday morning. Their purpose is to give seniors, who have not been exposed to math for a year, a chance to refresh their memories for the aptitude Tests and College Board Exams on April 3.

I WONDER if many others, like L.A.D., hate to listen to weather reports because they "prefer to enjoy a fine morning without knowing that the weather man predicts a storm in the afternoon".
